

Department of Psychology The Chinese University of Hong Kong

The Chinese University of Hong Kong is keen to enhance its reputation as a source of world-class research and delivery of knowledge through teaching and conference participation. It hopes that new appointees can embrace that agenda with the support of the abundant facilities provided here to all faculties.

Applications are invited for:

(1) Instructor

Applicants should have a PhD degree in psychology plus proven ability in teaching undergraduate courses such as General Psychology, Personal Growth, Human Sexuality, Educational Psychology, or others. Duties include teaching six courses per academic year, student project supervision, assisting in coordinating academic activities and other administrative duties. Appointment will be made initially on a two-year contract from August 2009, renewable subject to mutual agreement.

The above appointment will initially be made on fixed-term contract basis from August 2009, renewable subject to mutual agreement. More information about the Department and the programme is available at www.psy.cuhk.edu.hk. Enquiries can be forwarded to info@psy.cuhk.edu.hk.

Application Procedures

Please send full resume, copies of academic credentials, together with names and addresses (fax numbers/e-mail addresses as well, if available) of two referees to the Personnel Office, The Chinese University of Hong Kong, Shatin, New Territories, Hong Kong, S. A. R., China by 2 March 2009. Please quote the job reference number and mark 'Application - Confidential' on cover. The Personal Information Collection Statement will be provided upon request.

The Chinese University of Hong Kong

Founded in 1963, The Chinese University of Hong Kong (CUHK) is a forward looking comprehensive research university with a global vision and a mission to combine tradition with modernity, and to bring together China and the West. Our seven faculties - Arts, Business Administration, Education, Engineering, Medicine, Science and Social Science - and the new School of Law, with the Graduate School, offer over 330 undergraduate and postgraduate programmes. In 2007, we have more than 5,800 staff members, some 20,000 undergraduate and postgraduate students. Of these students, about 3,000 are from 45 countries and regions outside Hong Kong.

The Department of Psychology

The study of psychology at CUHK dates from 1963 with a course offering social psychology. Over time, the Department of Psychology has developed into a prominent department in the Faculty of Social Science offering Master and Ph.D. levels of training in addition to the original undergraduate training. The Department has become a major voice in the growth of psychology throughout Asia. Our outstanding faculty members publish in widely-cited international journals; they serve as editors and are on the editorial boards of many of these journals. We have also organized and hosted major international conferences in many disciplines of psychological study. Our unique blend of indigenous approaches and collaborative research with overseas colleagues has gained us an international reputation for innovative scholarship and proactive leadership in the discipline. Further information about the Department is available at our homepage <http://www.psy.cuhk.edu.hk/>.